1. Various aspects of the Davies case were discussed. See Memorandum for the Record this date.

3. Miss Driscoll of Sen. McCarthy's office called to state the Senator thought he had supplied me with documents regarding his relations with Charles Davis in Europe. He now wishes to ascertain whether such information was classified or could be made available to outsiders requesting same. The query arose out of Senator McCarthy's law suit in Syracuse. I informed Miss Driscoll that Senator McCarthy had had two conversations with me in December 1950, that he had given me certain information orally and shown me certain documents, and while I had made certain notes I retained no documents in this matter. Furthermore, I informed her that the information was a part of our classified files and would not be made available to outsiders.
